

University of South Carolina Aiken
Assistant Professors of Sociology

The University of South Carolina Aiken invites applications for two tenure-track positions at the rank of Assistant Professor of Sociology to begin August 2012. Candidates will be expected to teach Introductory Sociology and advise undergraduate students.

Position #1: Ph.D. in sociology or criminology is required by August 16, 2012. Candidates must be prepared to teach courses in the criminology/criminal justice concentration; significant graduate coursework in crime, deviance, delinquency is required.

Position #2: Ph.D. in sociology is required by August 16, 2012. Preference may be given to candidates who can contribute to the Department's Human Services Concentration by specifically teaching courses in aging and death and dying.

The Department of Sociology serves about 160 majors and offers the B.A. in Sociology with concentrations in criminology/criminal justice, human services, and general sociology. USCA is a predominately undergraduate institution which emphasizes teaching, requires scholarship, and expects service by its faculty and is located in an historic community near Augusta GA. Faculty typically teach 12 contact hours per week and average class size in the department stands at 27.

Apply on-line at: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=67797> (Position #1) OR <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=67798> (Position #2) and attach cover letter, curriculum vita, and unofficial graduate transcripts. Three academic letters of reference should be mailed to Dr. Barbara Johnson, Chair, Sociology Search Committee, USCA, 471 University Parkway, Aiken, SC 29801. Review of applications will begin December 15, 2011 and continue until positions are filled.

USCA seeks to attract and retain a diverse faculty consistent with its diverse student body and surrounding community. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. USCA is an AA/EOE.